RUDIMENTS OF READING,

OR

A COMBINED SYSTEM OF SPELLING, PRONUNCIATION, DEFINITION AND RHETORICAL EXPRESSION;

In which it is the leading design, that the learner, from the time he leaves his abs till he becomes an adept in the elocution of current language, shall always understand what he reads, and be prepared to give it a ready pronunciation;

In four small volumes;

VOL. I.

BY SAMUEL WILLARD,
MINISTER OF DEERFIELD.

“Feed my lambs.”

“1 would rather speak five words with my meaning understood, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue.”

JESUS CHRIST.

ST. PAUL.

GREENFIELD:
PRINTED BY DENIO AND PHELPS.
1815.